

I, the undersigned, [REDACTED], date of birth [REDACTED] state under oath in English as follows:

I was born in Greece in 1947 and my parents moved to Czechoslovakia in 1949. This country was invaded in 1969 by the Russians, so I left and went to South Africa. I settled in Johannesburg. I will explain how I met Radovan Krejcir and what my dealings were with him.

I was sitting at the News Café, in Bedfordview, in or about April 2008 and I was approached by another guy, whom I know and he then called Krejcir and told him that he was sitting with me, a guy that was Greek, but spoke fluent Czech.

Krejcir soon came by the News Cafe and we had a drink and a chat. He subsequently invited me home and it seems he has a lot of Greek friends, so he made enquiries about me. I would meet him very regularly. One day, he said 'You can work for me'. He was giving me cash from time to time and he gave me a car, which he had from Dubai.

The first 'job' as such that he asked me to do, was in relation to a guy from the Czech Republic. He paid for my fare and I travelled on Emirates to Dubai and then on to Vienna. From Vienna we drove. Krejcir specifically asked me to go and look into a guy by the name of Frantisek PIVODA, who was living in Peirov. His telephone number is +42 060 270 4240

He told me this guy, Pivoda, owed him a lot of money. He also said that Pivoda had killed his (Krejcir's) father and he wanted him dead. He said he would send me there to have a look and see where he goes and so on, and then he would send me back with someone else, to kill him.

I went in June 2008 to the Czech Republic, to see this guy and also to meet with another guy, by the name of Zagora Ales, who was to fetch me in Vienna and take me to the hotel and arrange a car and money and then to show me certain 'places'. This would be the first of three trips.

However, on the first trip, it was not possible to connect up, as Zagora was not there. I therefore went back to Spain to await further instructions. He told me to go back again, as it was all in order. I went back and met with Ales, and he showed me the house of Pivoda in the Pierov. He also showed me the hotel and race track of Pivoda, where the cart racing is done.

I then met with Krejcir at his house. He was not happy, as there had been no progress. When I sat with him, he then said there were other people he wanted to kill as well. He told his son to go and print the document, regarding the three guys. His son came back and handed the single page to his father (Krejcir) which Krejcir then handed to me. His father passed it to me and said this was the list of people that he wanted to kill.

After three months, without any success, I was back to South Africa and met with Krejcir again. I then met with Krejcir and George Smith, plus a Greek guy who lives in Bulgaria called Kyriakos. We travelled together in January 2009 and no sooner had we arrived there, we met with Zagora, to get some Czech money. We drove to Prague and we stayed at Hotel Abe. When we arrived there, we did not have the paper we needed with the details of the three people.

10

George Smith had the same paper, on a chip, but we had no printer. I took the chip to the reception and they printed it for me. George then went off somewhere, and got drunk and drugs. We went to No. 1 on the list, he had moved from the address we had. We then went to No 3 on the list and they said he was away in Portugal. We looked for the street in Prague, where Pivoda has a house, but we could not find it.

11

George Smith then phoned to Krejcir and told him the above bad news. George spoke to us after the call to Krejcir, he said 'Fuck you lot, I'm going' and he vanished. We went back to Vienna and then flew to Johannesburg.

12

When we were back in South Africa, Krejcir said we must go back again and finish the job. I think he buys the airline tickets at Fanorama Travel in Boksburg. We flew in late March 2009, again via Dubai, to Vienna and this time, George was not with us, as Kyriakos said he did not want George to be there. He told Krejcir, 'Tony can come, show me what needs to be done and then he can fuck off and I will get the job done.'

13

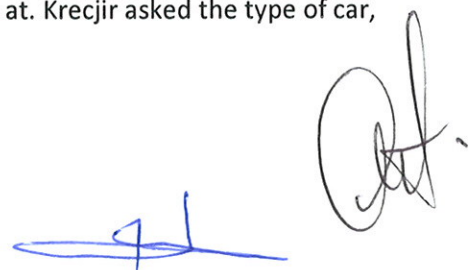

I should point out at this stage that, whilst I was happy to get some income from Krejcir, I was not happy to be involved in killing people. When things did not go right, I was happy, as it meant I was getting free travel, some cash and did not have to do much. By the time it became apparent that something would have to be done, I decided to sabotage the operations, I will explain now how I did this.

14

On Krejcir's 40th birthday, he invited a guy from Czech Republic and he ran a big bill and did not pay it. The guy's name is Igor Milksank. This guy was someone that was close to Pivoda and this guy was supposed to invite Pivoda to somewhere, (on Milksank's birthday) where the job of killing him would be arranged. This did not happen. I have handed Paul O'Sullivan a copy of the bill at Mercure Hotel, for his stay here. I believe Krejcir did not pay the bill even. I should mention by the way, that on Krejcir's birthday, he had a party at the Michelangelo that cost a lot of money, and he gave everybody cocaine to use.

15

We arrived in Prague the third time. We stopped in a town called Olomouc and stayed at a hotel. Krejcir's mother supplied a weapon, by giving it to a third party, a guy by the name of Pavel and he brought the weapon to us. We communicated with Krejcir, as to what hotel we were at. Krejcir asked the type of car, registration number and so on. He said we should leave the boot open and the weapon would be put there.

16

We were in the hotel and late at night, I saw a guy come there and put a 'package' in the boot of the rental car. There was also supposed to be a package of money in the packet. When I opened the packet I found the weapon, it was a Scorpion sub-machine gun. It looked brand new to me. There also a silencer with it.

17

I removed the seal from the silencer, so that it would not fit properly to the gun. Then Kyriados examined the weapon and he said the weapon was not good as the silencer did not fit and it would make too much noise. I suggested to him that he try it out, but he said it would not work, that he was an expert on such things and he just knew it would not work.

18

I then called Kejcir and told him that the weapon did not work and there was no money and Kyriakos said he would not do the job. There was another complication, the US president, Obama was visiting Czech Republic at that time and the security was very high. There were constant road-blocks all over the place. Radovan said he could not understand why we could not do the job. He said anyone can walk into a MacDonalds and shoot someone and walk out, with the job done. I then said to Krejcir maybe he should hire such a person.

19

After I told Krejcir this, Kyriakos spoke to Krejcir on the phone and they were swearing at each other. I could see that Kyriakos was very angry, as he said he came to do the job, but the weapon was not good and there was no money in the package. We flew back to South Africa. In fact I kept the remains of the boarding cards. I have now handed these to Paul O'Sullivan.

20

When we got back, Kyriakos was speaking to Michael Arsiotis and he was very angry. That was the last time I saw him, after this, I dropped him at the airport and we was gone back to Varna in Bulgaria. I have not seen him since. Kyriakos number used to be +35 987 866 7318. He speaks perfect English.

21

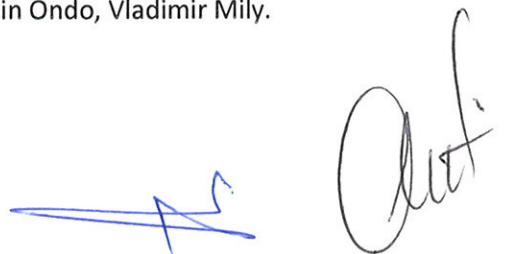

Approximately two years ago, a lawyer came from Prague, to discuss money that was owed to Krejcir by Yaroslav Starka. Starka sent his lawyer to South Africa, to discuss the terms as to how they would pay Kecjir. Krejcir took this lawyer out for supper. His name is Julius Kramaric. This lawyer was somehow arrested by the police and then deported. His number is +42 060 830 2251.

22

There is a guy from Australia, that comes two or three times a year and stays in Krecjir's house. I don't know what goes on between them, but it seems to be clandestine.

23

Kecjir also mentioned the following people that he wanted to kill. Martin Ondo, Vladimir Mily.

24

When I left South Africa, two years ago, I sent a fax to him. I have also given that fax to Paul O'Sullivan.

Now I will mention the 'work' Krejcir wanted done in the Seychelles.

25

I flew there in or about October 2008. I only went there once. He supplied me the tickets. When Krejcir fled the Seychelles, he left his business, named Water World (Pty) limited. I have given the business card of the place to Paul O'Sullivan. This guy, 'Sony Parekh' arranged the car for me and the hotel.

26

The purpose of my visit to the Seychelles, was to locate a certain Gilbrt Hoarean. I understood I was to obtain as much information on the person as possible, so that arrangements could be made by Krejcir to kill this guy.

27

After arriving in Seychelles and getting to the hotel. I got the car from Sony. Sony also showed me the big boat of Kejcir. It is clear that George Smith had also been there, as Sony told me 'Give my regards to George.'

28

After settling in I called Krejcir's girlfriend and she showed me around. She showed me the place where this Hoarean lived. His house was up a steep road with many twists and turns. I do not know why Krejcir wanted him dead. I was supposed to determine how easy it would be to kill him and how it should be done. I was then supposed to go with someone else after this, to have him killed.

29

He wanted another guy killed called, Patrick Hamini, who had apparently stolen something from Krejcir and arranged with the government to kick Krejcir out of the country. Patrick Hamin's number is +248 225 477 and his fax is +248 225 254. I could not even locate this guy's place.

30

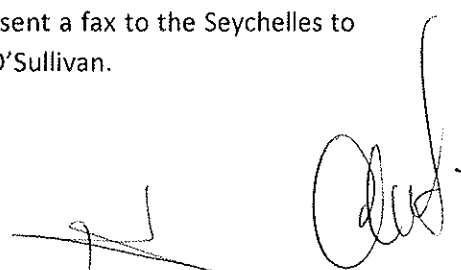

I reported back to Krejcir that it would be very hard to kill these guys, as the circumstances were such that he could not be easily got at. Krecjir then told Sony to take back the car, and send me back to South Africa. I briefed Kejcir after my return and he said not to worry, as this Gilbert Hoarean could be killed next time he visited South Africa.

31

I should also mention that Michael Arsiotis is the right hand man of Kejcir. Even though he steals a lot of money from Krejcir, he seems to be very close to him. Arsiotis told me is wanted in Cyprus to do with a murder.

32

I subsequently, after leaving South Africa, wanted to warn all these people that Krejcir wanted them dead. I did this by telephoning them. I could not get hold of Horean, so I sent a fax to the Seychelles to try and locate him, but never got a reply. I have given these faxes to Paul O'Sullivan.

There is a guy on the Czech TV, called Hynek Jiri, who works for TV Czech Republic. He called em and wanted an interview from me. I asked him where he got the number from, he could not tell me. The people in the secret service of the Czech Republic told me I must not speak to him, as he tells everything back to Krejcir. Sometime later I was speaking to Krejcir and he asked why I did not speak to the guy from Czech TV, as he is very trustworthy.
