

Glenn Agliotti – Drug Trafficker & Murderer

Norbert Glenn Agliotti – spent his life committing fraud, drug trafficking, corruption and murder.

Glenn Agliotti was often able to get shady characters and gullible journalists to say nice things about him, however the truth is different from his lies. Glenn Agliotti was an evil conman, drug trafficking, murderer, who also bribed many police officials and helped place South Africa into the crime-ridden country it is today. Police management were riding around in tax-payer funded super cars, collecting bags of cash and releasing confiscated drugs and counterfeit goods, so that their criminal associates could stay out of prison.

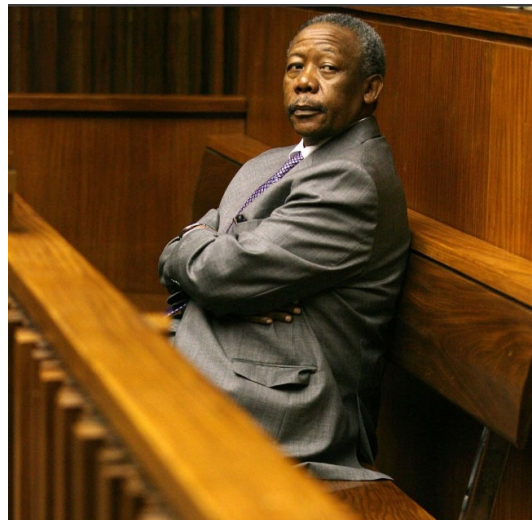

Paul O’Sullivan is proud of the years of hard work in infiltrating the crime syndicates around Glenn Agliotti, to take Agliotti, his accomplices and dirty police officials down. During the period 2001 through 2008, Paul O’Sullivan personally carried out the following activities, at his own expense: -

1. Infiltrated with under-cover agents, the corrupt security company CNSG, owned by Clinton Nassif, who also paid bribes to Chief of Police, Jackie Selebi.
2. Infiltrated with under-cover agents, the drug trafficking syndicate around Glenn Agliotti.
3. Turned police officials in Jackie Selebi’s own inner circle into informants and whistleblowers.

4. Pushed the (now defunct) Directorate of Special Operations, (Scorpions) into taking action against Jackie Selebi.

For his crime fighting efforts, Paul O'Sullivan was: -

- Hounded out of his senior position on the Executive Board of the Airports Company South Africa, after exposing the links between drug trafficking, counterfeit goods trafficking, human trafficking and the chief of police, Jackie Selebi.
- Subjected to false criminal complaints and investigation by dirty cops over a five-year period.
- Lambasted in the media by dishonest police spin doctors, who were instructed by Jackie Selebi to destroy Paul O'Sullivan's reputation any way they could.
- Accused by President Mbeki of being a foreign spy, the same false narrative that Deputy Chief of Police Andree Pruis had also spun to the media.
- Subjected to multiple attempts on his life, which included being shot at twice.
